

NATURAL

This one is all about bringing a positive and long lasting change in your life. Our brain is the largest consumer of oxygen as it takes up over 20% of the total oxygen we take in, but after using this studies have shown improvement in one's psychological performance. This might sound strange but athletes have been using this technique as a part of their regular training programs, only because recovery is easier this way. Supporting oxygen permits the athlete to train harder and longer and to recover faster. And this oxygen is pollution free.

Not just that, it is the perfect hangover cure. As alcohol makes you oxygen-deficient, this gives you clean oxygen without any impurities. This flavor has many benefits for teeth and skin also, from radiant and glowing skin to clean respiratory system. There's no more walking. Catch this exclusive product and welcome the new way of breathing.

PEPPERMINT

Peppermint is a flower plant that grows in various parts of Europe and North America. Mostly cultivated for its fragrant oil, it can help one with energy, mood and clarity. Moreover, it benefits in controlling appetite and increases physical strength. Not to forget it improves your mental focus to a great extent!

Thanks to its refreshing nature, it's the perfect stress reliever and reduces mental exhaustion. Also, effective against anxiety. Studies have shown that peppermint enhances athletic performance. Tests conducted after having the athletes smell peppermint showed improvement in areas of cardiovascular endurance and strength.

The study also suggested that peppermint can be used to control natural appetite as well. Experiments have shown that volunteers who sniffed peppermint every two hours were not as hungry as non-sniffers. It's also very helpful with one's digestive system, and an instant reliever for stomachaches.

The peppermint flavor is a good alternative for mouth freshness, as it not only freshens your bad breath but is beneficial for the respiratory system. This cool and refreshing peppermint scent is a go-to for all!

CITRUS BURST

Oxygen is most vital in everyone's life. We can't really not survive without it. But you do get the liberty to choose how do you want to consume it, like which flavor? You can always go for our special citrus burst. Citrus trees are popularly cultivated in warm countries for their fruit, like lemon and orange.

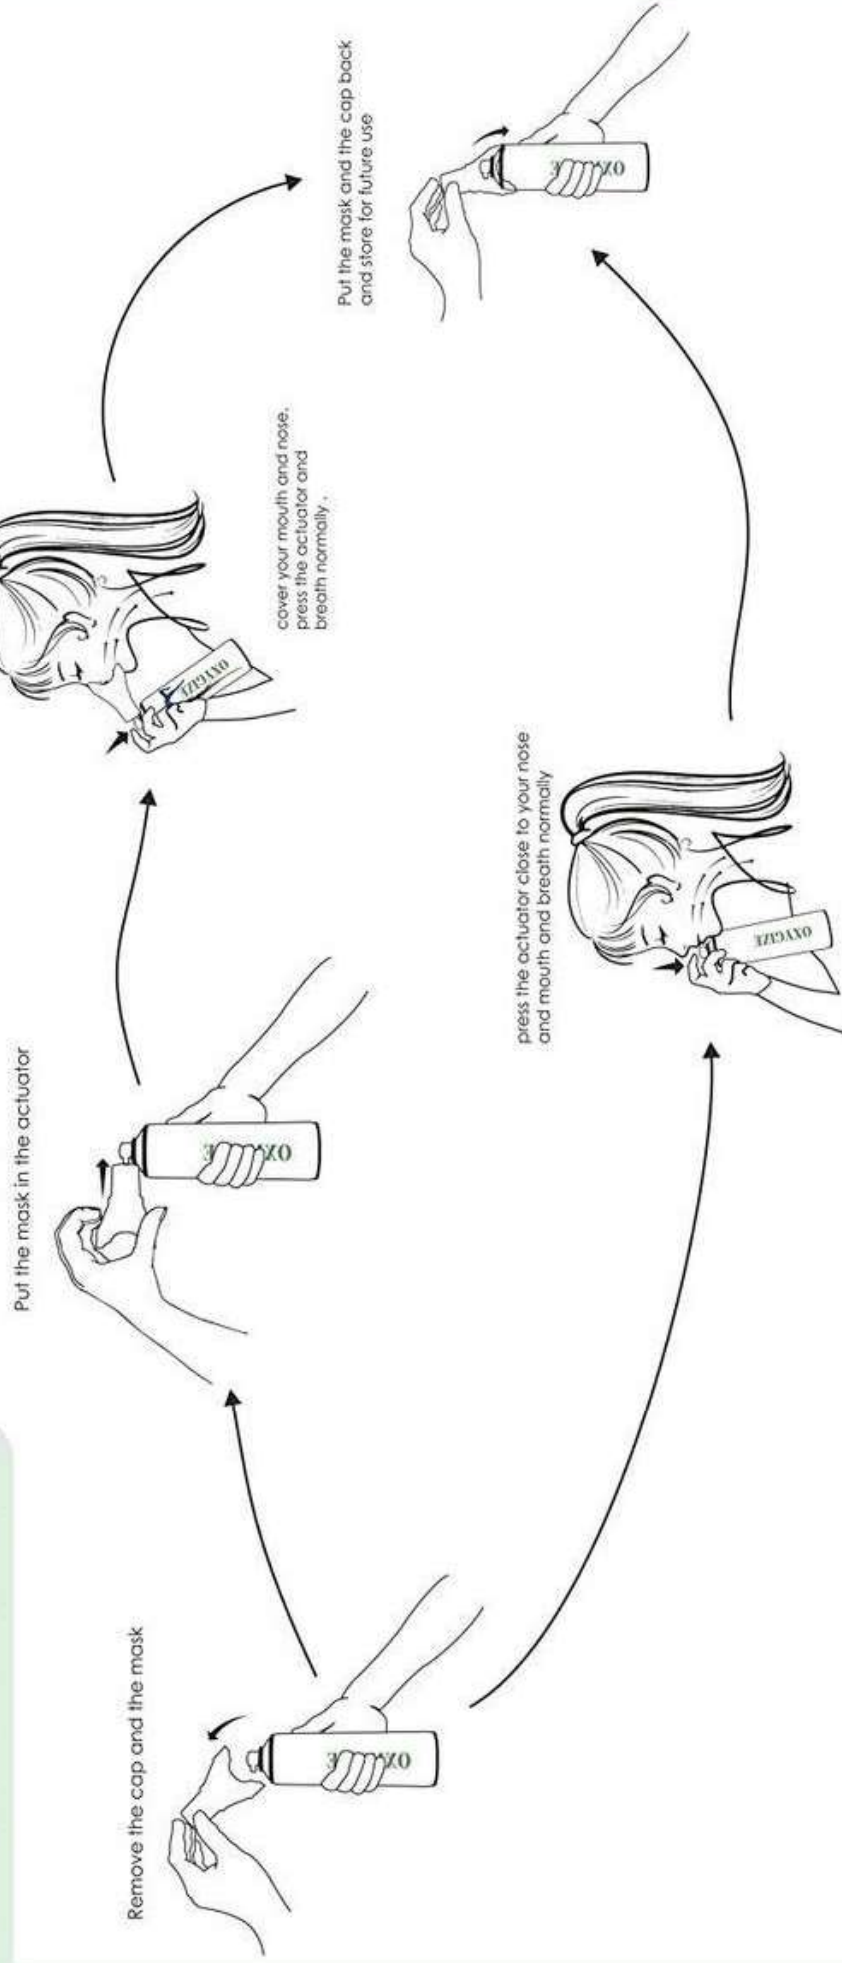

It is somewhat like a young living blend which brings a refreshing aroma that you can make in your home and work space. Unlike many other essential oils, various health and skin benefits of citrus oil have been studied.

Not only this perfect combination brings you the smooth and radiant skin, you always wished for but also helps to improve your body odor. As if hangovers, you'll get instant relief. Studies have also shown that use of citrus refreshes you and invigorates positive energy which stores a cooling effect on your skin.

For all you smokers, this will easily get rid of your other smoking odor as the citrus smell overcomes the cigarette odor. It's beneficial for your respiratory system as well.
